

ABSTRACT

A system for adaptive notification in a data communications network. The system includes a data transport network in communication with a client and a 5 server. The client comprises a client-side adaptive notification processor in communication with the data transport network. The server comprises a server-side adaptive notification processor in communication with the data transport network.

2025-10-10 10:00:00